BUTTER NOT TO BE RATIONED

"I cannot see the remotest possibility of butter rationing in the near future," states J. Gordon Taggart, foods administrator, Wartime Prices and Trade Board. A recent order of the Board requires that butter held in storage be reduced by November 30 by 25 per cent of the stocks held on the November 1 level. About 11,000,000 pounds of butter will thus be placed on the market it is expected.

The program included the following local artists: song, Miss Margaret McLeann; piano accordion, J. Salus; song, H. Drew; bagpipe selection, Jim Moore; song, Miss Peggy McDonald; piano and violin duet, Betty Hillary and Gordon Roper; song, Stan. Atkinson. GIRL GUIDE PATROLS DOING GOOD WORK

On display in Shield's store window this week are a number of items of clothing, all handmade. This clothing is the work of four patrols of the local Girl Guides and is scheduled to be sent to an Evacuee home, at Devon, England. The girls who knitted and sewed these garments are to be congratulated on their workmanship and even more so for their sympathy and generosity to their young English comrades who, through no fault of their own, have been forced to leave their homes and the care of their parents and reside in an Evacuee home in the English countryside.

Elks Celebrate Birthday With Banquet

Hall Packed to Capacity; R. C. Olds, President of Elks Assoc. Gave Address; Splendid Entertainment Program

In preparing for the Second anniversary birthday party, Coleman Elks' banquet committee made a first class job on Thursday evening. It was approximately 150 Elks, their wives and guests sat down to a sumptuous banquet and entertainment program in the I.O.O.F. hall. Turkey was the piece-de-resistance at the banquet table with all the trimmings.

Master of Ceremonies was Exalted Ruler Wm. Gate who opened the program with "O Canada." Bro. R. Tiffin, lodge Chaplain, said Grace. During supper the chairman proposed the toast "To The King" and was followed by introducing Bro. W. Duff, past Exalted Ruler and present District Deputy, who gave an address of welcome.

Bro. R. C. Olds, of Blairmore and Provincial president of the Elks Association, was introduced and gave a very enlightening address on Elkdom. He stated Elkdom first originated in the States. In tracing its history it was revealed that Vancouver started the first Elks lodge in Canada where it has fostered to the point that it now strides the Dominion from coast to coast. In giving a vote of thanks to president Olds, Bro. M. Stiger remarked that the address was the best he had yet heard on Elkdom and congratulated the speaker on his address.

The toast "To Our Country" was spoken by Bro. J. J. McIntyre. He gave at length on the magnitude of Canada's industrial war effort. There were some, he stated, who criticized the country's war effort but realizing the enormous undertaking involved and who failed to give credit to the wonderful accomplishments achieved since Canada went to war. He touched on the glorious achievement of the recently concluded Victory Loan and gave credit to the loan workers for a good job well done.

Following supper the tables were cleared and all enjoyed a splendid entertainment program, and an old fashioned community sing. This was followed by solos by Miss Peggy McDonald, Bros. Harry Drew, Stan. Atkinson, Howard Davies and Adam Wilson. John Salus received much applause for his accordion solo.

The program committee had arranged a special treat in the appearance of Mr. Harrison, of Hillcrest, who kept the audience intensely interested as he awed them with many mystifying tricks of magic. He was warmly applauded.

Following the entertainment program dancing was started and continued till midnight, music being furnished by Mason's orchestra. New and old dances were enjoyed giving added pleasure to all.

Permits Not Needed Certain Classification of Workers

National Security Service regulations are being revised to permit retail trades and Postal authorities to give temporary employment to male and female employees during the Christmas and New Year season; under an order issued and approved by Labour Minister Mitchell, acting as NSS Director.

Affected by the order are teachers and students during their Christmas vacation, men more than 59 years of age, women more than 44 years of age and where there are more than sufficient women to meet the requirements of high priority in a given locality, women who are less than 45 years of age.

The order revised the regulation which requires permits to seek employment and seven days notice on termination of employment. It is to be in force for the period December 13 to January 5 only.

Note: No person employed without permit pursuant to this order may continue in such employment without a permit after January 5, 1943. This relaxation will greatly relieve the labor situation necessary during the Christmas season.

It's easy to burn up about other people's faults. Let's burn up some of our own and start a national bonfire.

LOCAL STORY APPEARED IN MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE

Recently in the left hand corner column in the Lethbridge Herald appeared a clipping taken from Maclean's magazine. The clipping dealt with the meeting in Coleman of Mike Opuski and Sergeant Instructor Leon Swinton, of the Polish Air Force at Moose Jaw. The story first appeared in The Journal, Oct. 8, and dealt with Mr. Opuski finding the whereabouts of his brother Teddy, now in Britain, from Sergeant Swinton, who had informed him that his brother had been his squadron leader in Britain. Maclean's writer had added more color to the story but had retained the fundamental facts.

Men to Have Leave if They Can be Spared

OTTAWA—The defense department said today granting of Christmas and New Year's leave to troops on home duties or in training in Canada "must depend entirely on whether personnel can be spared from their duties, bearing in mind the necessity of completing of training of reinforcements and units."

"Canadian troops on home duties or in training in Canada, with the exception of operational troops, will be granted their choice of five days' leave for either Christmas or New Year's," the statement said.

"It is strongly emphasized, however, in order to avoid disappointments in the homes of these soldiers that the privilege may not be extended to coast defense units. Leave to units employed on coast defense duties will only be granted in the discretion of the general officer commanding-in-chief, Pacific and Atlantic commands."

Christmas leave may start December 21 or 22 and end December 26 or 27; New Year's leave may begin December 28 or 29 and terminate either January 2 or 3. The time is staggered to aid relieving abnormal congestion on the railways.

Girl Guide Notes

Did you see our "Bundles for Britain" in the Value Store window this week? We are proud of them.

If you did see them you perhaps noticed that each group of articles, (consisting of 1 sweater, 1 cap, 1 pair of socks, dress and panties and nightie) was submitted by each of our four patrols. The one group which meets with the approval of an examining committee will be held for the present, and submitted to the Guide Provincial Exhibition in March, as a Company entry. The other three outfits, together with some donated articles, will be sent directly to England. A kind friend has given us the address of an Evacuee Home for Children, in Devon, and we plan to send our parcel directly there.

We have been having regular meetings during the Fall, and have accomplished a little Guide work, and plan to have some badges for presentation early in the new year.

Our marching, too should show some improvement the next time we attend a parade; Mr. Dickenson has been giving us some drill, and we think it has made quite a difference.

Our annual Christmas party will be held on December 14—and is to be quite a departure from our regular routine.

The Outlook For Agriculture

WESTERN CANADA has just produced one of the largest crops in the history of this great wheat growing area. Of the 550,000,000 bushels said to have been harvested, the government has contracted to buy about 250,000,000 bushels. Because of the curtailment of world markets due to the war much of this crop will not be moved for the present, and so far it has provided the farmers with many problems in the matters of securing help for the large scale harvesting operations, and in finding storage space for this large quantity of wheat. So far, this year's crop has not proved to be of great advantage to the farmer, but in a recent report on the agricultural situation in Canada, issued by the Bank of Nova Scotia, there are some interesting observations concerning the economic situation of the farmers now, and the outlook for agriculture in the next few months.

Cash Income Shows Increase

For Western Canada, the report predicts an increase in the farmer's cash income over that of the past year. This will be due partly to the increase in the price of wheat, and partly to expansion in the production of dairy and livestock products. For the whole of Canada, an increase of 15% over 1941 is expected in the farmer's cash income. This represents about $130,000,000, and would bring the farmer's cash income to over a billion dollars, for the first time since 1928. Higher cost of farm labor, and a higher price level for feed, offsets some of the advantage of this increased income. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports an advance of more than 20% in the wages of day labor since 1941, and an advance of 30% in monthly wages in the same period. The total output for the farmer was not as great as the figures might indicate, however, since much less labor was hired at the higher wage rate. Labor conditions are considered to be at present unfavorable to the farmers. Figures recently issued by the Bank of Canada show that the supply of farm labor has decreased by 20% since the war began, and by 9% in the past year. This situation has been relieved somewhat by the recruiting of harvest help from the cities, and by women assuming a greater amount of farm work. There has been noted too, an increase in the amount of machinery purchased by farmers. In 1941 over $2,000,000 worth of machinery was purchased in excess of the amount purchased in 1940. Of this, $1,000,000 was for dairy equipment.

A Shortage Of Skilled Labor

In spite of all this there is a serious shortage of skilled farm labor, and it is hoped that possibly this situation may shortly be rectified through the operation of Selective Service. In summing up the report states that with the recent adjustment of beef and bacon prices, and "the higher and better balanced price structure which has been established for dairy products," the period in adjustment of farm products may now be over, and the new prices may prove incentives for greater production. The facts given in the report show clearly the very important part agriculture is playing in the war effort, and the way in which production is being carried on despite the labor shortage. The demands of the home market have increased greatly in the past months, yet acute shortages of farm products have been averted. At the same time contracts of unprecedented size are being fulfilled for Britain and the armed forces here and abroad. In maintaining production on this scale, the agricultural industry is indeed playing a major role in the winning of the war.

Non-Essential Foods In The Diet

The luncheon or supper meal can be a very attractive one, full of the necessary food elements, if the proper care is exercised in preparation and planning beforehand. Too many people serve the usual slab of cold meat and potato salad without any attempt whatsoever to make this meal appetizing, wholesome and well-balanced.

Children coming boisterously in after school to eat, their appetites fairly shouting for plenty of good, wholesome food, should be served a meal which will restore the energies they have expended and build firm, healthy bones and tissue. Sausages and fried food followed by doughnuts and jam for a filler may sound rather nice to the average child, but, though expensive foods, they do not contain nearly enough vitamins and minerals so necessary to the growing body. So much fried food, too, is difficult to digest.

Following are two types of lunches. A comparison will show at once what is meant:

HIGH VALUE LUNCH

Baked Lima Beans
Toasted Whole Wheat Cheese Sandwich
Carrot and Celery Salad
Apples or Applesauce and Cream

LOW VALUE LUNCH

Fried Sausages and Potatoes
Stewed Tomatoes
White Bread and Butter
Doughnuts and Jam
Tea

The high value lunch shows imagination in planning, is nicely balanced, with no preponderance of any one type of food as in the low value lunch, and consists of food containing the essential vitamins and minerals. The children, too, will enjoy this kind of meal much more.

Gloomy Forecast

Doctor Says That Tooth Decay Is Inherited

Dr. T. A. Hardgrove, Fond du Lac, Wis., dentist, made a gloomy forecast for babes in the October issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association.

If their parents have toothaches, they probably will, too, Hardgrove said.

"Tendencies to tooth decay may be inherited along with the type of glandular mechanism of the parents," he said.

His studies have shown that all the phenomena of tooth decay are "endocrine manifestations" and that "we inherit our tendencies to dental decay because we inherit the endocrine mechanism to a large extent."

"In families, we frequently find decay in the same areas of the same teeth," he said.

Automobile Care

To Keep Your Car Running Avoid Battery Abuse

As time goes on the care of present automobiles assumes first line importance. As tires wear out and gasoline ration coupons are used up, the car must be given attention. Consumer Information Service points out:

If car owners in town and country will exercise common sense the life of the car's battery, which is a very important consideration, will be extended. Useless starting should be avoided. Some people have the bad habit of not looking for the cause of starting trouble until the battery has been exhausted.

Periodic battery inspection and filling should be done by a reputable service station. It is advisable to have the battery checked once a week at the same time as air is put into the tires and other check-ups are being made.

Car owners should make certain that nothing is added to the battery solution but approved water, unless it has been thoroughly established that some electrolyte has been lost.

It is a good idea to glance at the ammeter on the car's dashboard occasionally, and if it shows "discharge" during the daytime or is not operating at all, an immediate call at the service station is suggested.

NEWS of your Army

From Directorate of Public Relations Army

Private Mary Smith enlisted in the C.W.A.C. early in October. She had been a linotype operator, and while anxious to do her part, was puzzled as to what place she could have in the Army. She was tested and during the course of the interview it was discovered that she had high school education and that her job in civilian life had required a high degree of speed and accuracy. These factors, together with Pte. Smith's quiet, pleasant manner suggested to the Army Examiner that she would be best suited to a job requiring manual dexterity and tact in dealing with people. Now Pte. Smith is happily training to be a dental chair assistant.

Jean Brown is another newcomer to the ranks of the Canadian Women's Army Corps. When she enlisted, she thought her place might be as a cook. The Personnel Selection officer who interviewed her found out by careful questioning that she had worked in the Wrens in England during the last war and had had a great deal of experience in handling rationals as well as in actual cooking. She has now been placed in a large centre as senior cook and assistant to the messing officer, where her practical experience is being put to good use.

Keystone Of Army

This all important matter of fitting round pegs into round holes is one which is occupying the attention of experts in the Directorate of Personnel Selection in the Canadian Active Army. This Directorate in Ottawa, working under the Adjutant-General and directed by Colonel W. Line, comprises a staff of practical men and women whose qualifications, in addition to careful military training and personnel work include applied psychology. Throughout Canada 211 officers, called Army Examiners are engaged in this branch of work which has been called the keystone of the Army and has been responsible for sifting the new arrivals in the Army into a few broad groupings with respect to their ability to learn quickly the duties of a soldier.

The first C.W.A.C. training centre to try out the new idea was MacDonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, P.Q. and now it is being successfully carried out at No. 3 C.W.A.C. Basic Training Centre, Kitchener, Ont., and at Vermilion, Alberta. Every person at the training centre is given a special test and is personally interviewed by one of the officers. This work is done as soon as possible after the recruit arrives in order that the results may be used in placing the volunteer with a minimum loss of time.

Experts At Work

Working on the principle that "the right man or woman in the right place can mean a battle won, and that the wrong man or woman in the wrong job can cause untold confusion and delay," Colonel Line and his staff are giving serious thought to the selection of the group responsible for the smooth-working of the personnel selection service. Army Examiners realize that there is no substitute for actually trying out the man or woman on the job whenever that is possible. But when it is a matter of classifying very large numbers of individuals the job of trying out becomes impossible.

THE BEST WAY WE'VE EVER TRIED IS ALL-BRAN'S "BETTER WAY"!

ing centres is interviewed before she is posted to her ultimate duties. Though one of several hundred young women at the training centre, she nevertheless remains an individual, and her work, her behavior and her general adaptability to the new life does not go unnoticed by the officers and N.C.O.'s with whom she is brought in contact. At the end of her training she is classified under one of the prescribed categories. Officers' qualifications include reliability, determination, initiative, tact, temperament, loyalty, leadership, personal habits, imagination, tactical and general knowledge, perception, judgment, commonsense and ability to teach.

The time entailed in this determining the type of work for which a recruit is best suited, could not be taken at the recruiting office and it has been found that recruits are more apt to discuss in a friendly, sympathetic atmosphere, matters regarding their previous occupations, trades and qualifications which they might overlook in the bustle of the recruiting office.

NOT SO MANY SIZES

The prices board ordered that paper bags for various commercial purposes must henceforth be manufactured in fewer sizes and from prescribed weights of paper. The order, effective immediately, covers candy and notion bags, millinery bags and bags for laundry, wet wash, garments and curtain rods, and is designed to economize in the use of skilled labor.

Adolphia in the Financial Post says: Sir Ian Fraser, the handsome South African who as a boy of 21 was blinded in the last war, rides, swims, plays bridge, finds his way around the Houses of Parliament, presides over the destinies of St. Dunstan's and is a governor of the B.E.C. CHURCHILL ADVISES ITALY TO BREAK WITH THE AXIS AND SUE FOR EARLY PEACE

London. Prime Minister Churchill advised the Italian people to break with Mussolini and their German partners and sue for peace before their nation is brought "under prolonged, scientific and shattering air attack" from Allied North African bases.

Transcending to the world on the eve of his 68th birthday, the prime minister declared that "now at this moment the 1st British Army is striking hard at the last remaining footholds of the Germans and Italians in Tunisia" and "before long" they will be expelled and the war will be carried to Italy "in a manner not hitherto dreamed of by its guilty leaders."

"It is for the Italian people, 40,000,000 of them, to say whether they want this terrible thing to happen to them or not," he said.

Emphasizing the Allied peace offensive that was being directed toward Rome, the B.B.C. preceded the prime minister's 30-minute speech with broadcast appeals to the Italian people to make a separate peace.

It was a victory speech that the war leader made in a strong, firm and confident voice, but he warned his people and their Allies against dreaming their successes in North Africa, Russia and elsewhere had removed expectation of anything but a long war.

Stimberly, he concluded, "The dawn of 1943 will soon loom red before us, and we must brace ourselves to cope with the trials and problems of what must be a stern and terrible year."

"But we are becoming ever more entitled to be sure that the perils which might well have blotted out our life and all that we have and cherish will be surmounted and that we shall be preserved for further service in the vanguard of mankind."

FEW ARE GRANTED

Although Many Apply For Exit Permits To Work Elsewhere

Ottawa.—National selective service officials said they have approved only 15 per cent. of the 400 applications for labor exit permits received since Oct. 20 when, by order-in-council, permits were made necessary for Canadians leaving the country to work elsewhere.

Among the 85 per cent. refused permits were a number of skilled workers who were considered needed for war work in Canada. They included doctors, nurses and other professional and technical men and women.

The 15 per cent. who were granted permits included a few men and women who wanted to join their families outside Canada, some key men and workmen needed in the production of war materials outside the country, girls going abroad to be married, and students completing courses in universities outside Canada.

The 400 figure did not include a number of persons like government officials, persons in ill-health and others who are exempt from the regulations. It also did not include several hundred lumber workers who wanted to work in the New England woods during the winter but who were required at home.

In a number of cases, officials said, persons have completed arrangements to leave Canada and have been stopped at the border because they had failed to obtain labor exit permits.

ALASKA HIGHWAY

Interest In The Future Settlement Possibilities In North

Edmonton.—Unfolding of new frontiers in the far north through opening of the Alaska highway is creating wide interest in United States over the future settlement possibilities of northern Alberta and the vast region lying north of the province. Dan E. C. Campbell, director of publicity for the provincial government, said here.

A big trek to Edmonton and northward is indicated by the growing volume of inquiries received by the publicity department.

Since June, between 800 and 1,000 inquiries have been received. Many of these were applications for information material including maps, folders and general data in regard to farming, and available lands, particularly in the Peace River district.

He said it was also significant that many of the inquiries were from potential settlers in the country served by the new Alaskan highway while a smaller number came from possible tourists.

Historic New Alcan Highway Opened In Record Time

BRIG.-GEN. O'CONNOR

WILL GET SHARE

Small Retailer Will Have Opportunity To Obtain Available Goods. Ottawa.—Speaking to a retail trade delegation, Donald Gordon, the chairman of the wartime prices and trade board, stated that the small retailer will have equal opportunity to obtain his share of the available goods. The price board chairman denied that the government has plans for the elimination of thousands of retail outlets.

Presenting an historic occasion, ceremonies dedicating the new Canada-Alaska highway, near the Alaska-Yukon boundary line. A feat of almost unsurpassed engineering skill, the road is considered one of the world's wonders. Started on March 12 of this year it was completed long ahead of schedule. The highway extends 1,871 miles from Dawson Creek to Fairbanks, Alaska, and has opened up a whole new territory. It was built by the willingness by 10,000 soldiers and 2,000 civilian workmen. Brig.-Gen. J. A. O'Connor, left, is officer commanding the U.S. army's Northwest Service Command and builder of the Alcan highway. Dr. Charles Cammell, commissioner of the Northwest Territories, right. Pensions Minister MacKenzie represented the Canadian government at the opening ceremonies. E. L. Bartlett, secretary of state for Alaska, also officiated at the ceremonies.

IN ENEMY HANDS

Prominent French Patriots Reported Handed Over To Nazis

At The French Frontier.—Former Premier Paul Reynaud, former Minister Georges Mandel, and probably five other former French leaders including Gen. Maurice Gamelin, have been, or are about to be, given into German hands, reliable sources said.

According to the most authentic information, Reynaud and Mandel, captives since the fall of France, have been transferred from their prison fortress in the Pyrenees to Bordeaux, ostensibly for safe keeping but actually as a step to being handed over to the Nazis.

This was said to be largely the result of a letter Reynaud wrote to Marshal Henri Petain, protesting the appearance of German troops around his prison. Reynaud told Petain this was objectionable, and that he was "taking note of the state of affairs for future settlement."

With Reynaud and Mandel, according to well-informed French sources, are Gen. Gamelin, former Premier Edouard Daladier, former Premier Leon Blum, Pierre Jacomet, former administrator of the national defence ministry, and former Air Minister Guy de Chabrier, the latter moved from internment near Vichy.

The Nazis, these sources said, want Reynaud because in 1940, while still premier, he advocated transferring the government to North Africa to continue resistance, and Mandel because he wanted to organize a government in Africa after the armistice.

PARATROOP BADGE

Will Be Worn By Men Who Reach Prescribed Standard

Winnipeg.—A parachute qualification badge, to be worn by paratroopers of the Canadian army, has been authorized by military authorities.

The badge which depicts an open parachute between outspread wings with a maple leaf superimposed upon the suspension lines, will be worn on the left breast of the men's uniform.

To qualify for the badge officers and other ranks must make five jumps and reach the prescribed standard at a qualifying course.

SQUADRON OF CANADIAN AIRMEN HELPED TO DRIVE THE ENEMY FROM LIBYA

Ottawa.—Canadian airmen took a prominent part in the air side of the operations which put the German Afrika Korps to rout. R.C.A.F. headquarters said in a report from a public relations officer with the Canadian airmen in Egypt.

Canadians in one squadron, the famous Shark squadron of the R.A.F., shot down eight Stuka dive bombers and one Messerschmitt 109 fighter in two days. The squadron's total bag was 11 Stukas and two ME 109's.

The public relations officer, whose name was not given, described the early aerial onslaught of the United Nations from Egypt as a "terrific sight" and said "traffic in the rush hour at the corner of King and Yonge streets, Toronto, could not have been heavier than that which filled the sky over certain sectors."

The Shark squadron, the oldest in point of service in the desert, used fighter-bombers with jagged rows of sharks' teeth painted on the nose. Canadians flying in these machines from daylight to darkness escorted heavy bombers, and bombed enemy landing and transport facilities.

"In the first few days of the offensive they the Shark squadron matched tactics with the Luftwaffe to the tune of 11 Stukas and two ME 109's destroyed over a period of two days," said the report. "Their own losses in the same period were two pilots wounded."

"Canadian members of the squadron in that fighting were well to the fore. They accounted for eight Stukas and one ME 109."

"Fitz Sgt. D. Orwan of Virden, Man., had two Stukas to his credit in this fight while Fitz Sgt. Dick DeBourke of Boston, Mass., had two Stukas confirmed and one probable. Fitz Sgt. R. C. C. Smith of Windsor, Ont., and Detroit, destroyed one Stuka and probably destroyed another while P.O. L. H. Curphey of Ottawa and P.O. Joe Crichton of Chatham, Ont., each destroyed one."

"One of the great battles was one day when they encountered a group of 30 Stukas with an escort of 15 ME 109's. This was while they were returning to base after bombing an enemy landing field."

"Outnumbered as they were, they did not hesitate. They tore into the Germans with such speed that they forced the Nazi dive bombers to jettison their cargoes of bombs on their own troop lines."

Describing the mass of aircraft employed, Fitz Sgt. C. L. Shaker of Cornwall, Ont., said: "There were so many bombers operating that we were dropping our loads in shifts. On our third trip of the day we had to wait around until other bombers had completed their bombing before we could make a run at the target."

Another trip Fitz Sgt. R. C. LeCours said: "The squadron, while proceeding to bomb German transport troops moving from the south, passed two lots of bombers on their way out, and on reaching the target, found there still others."

Many Millions Saved Through Price Control

Ottawa.—Canada's price control regulations have been credited with saving residents of the Dominion over eight million dollars during the past year.

The eight million dollars represented economies in the nation's war costs and savings to the Canadian housewife.

Summing up the results of the price control regulations at the end of the first 10 months of the current year, a British United Press report pointed out that the cost of living in the Dominion has only risen two points during the present war as compared with 16 points for a comparable period during the 1914-1918 struggle.

The price control plan is a year old on Dec. 1 and observers through the world are agreed that, in the main, it has been a highly successful phase of the Canadian war effort.

During the 1914-1918 war the cost of living in Canada doubled, but it is expected that under the price ceilings now in effect, the rise in costs during the present conflict will be held down to a fraction of the gain in the great war.

Reliable sources said that regulations under the scheme have already forced nearly 600 business firms to close down. And they say that this factor has itself contributed to the war effort by releasing more men for war industries and the armed services.

SHOWS INCREASE

New Highway Accounts For More Gasoline Used In B.C.

Victoria.—Consumption of gasoline in British Columbia for commercial purposes is increasing, the coal and petroleum board reported, with activity on the Alaska highway accounting largely for upturn. October consumption totalled 6,807,271 gallons, an increase of 1,050,726 gallons over the same month last year, with the bulk of consumption in the interior of the province, through which the highway runs.

Canada Doubles Lumber Exports To United States

Ottawa.—Timber Controller Alvin H. Williamson announced that shipments of Canadian lumber to the United States this year will approximate 1,300,000,000 board feet, or more than double the corresponding exports to that country in any year from 1932 to 1940 inclusive.

In answer to statements made to the United States senate committee investigating the war program, Mr. Williamson said that despite a labor shortage and a consequent falling off in timber production throughout Canada, the exports to the United States this year will probably be greater by a small margin than they were in 1941.

The controller drew attention to a statement made to the U.S. committee that an alleged embargo on the export of British Columbia Douglas fir logs would adversely affect the American war effort.

"Actually," he said, "the exports of such logs normally have represented less than one per cent. of the log production in Oregon and Washington. They are thus seen to be so small as to have no effect, one way or the other, on the American war program."

"The Canadian timber control has been working closely with the war production board to assure adequate supplies for the United States war effort, even at the cost of depriving ourselves lumber we badly needed," said Mr. Williamson.

"The joint policy of the W.P.B. and our control has been to see that logs are sorted and sawn into types of lumber most urgently required, and that the lumber is channelled into the war effort in order of priority, taking into consideration, at all times, the war requirements of both countries."

He explained that exports of logs and lumber to the United States are subject to permit.

"By employing this permit system, we are assisting the W.P.B. in making sure that lumber does not get into the hands of non-essential users. The export permit system thus supplements our own control, which prevents non-essential users in Canada from purchasing lumber needed in the joint program."

"That our Canadian control is proving effective is shown in the fact that, despite a colder climate, the per capita consumption in this country is only two-thirds of what it is in the United States."

Mr. Williamson said that if any export permits have been refused it is only because the lumber was desperately needed for the Canadian war effort.

A Good Newspaper

For the third year in succession, the Red Deer Advocate has been awarded the trophy for the best front page among Alberta weeklies. Both awards were made at the annual convention of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association held in Calgary on Friday and Saturday. The Advocate people feel proud that their efforts to provide the people of the town and district with the best weekly newspaper possible have been recognized in a wider field, and they hope to be able to maintain the present high standard. Without the continued and generous support of our advertisers and subscribers the publication of a high class weekly would be impossible, and we feel that these two awards are shared jointly by them and by ourselves. After all, a good weekly is only the reflection of a good community, and we are grateful for the fact that we are privileged to represent the best town and the best district we know—Red Deer Advocate.

The writer has lived in many countries where he has made the amazing and appalling discovery that the crookiest people in the world call themselves Christians. Many small nations have found this out to their sorrow. A cultured Mohammedan multi once remarked that "Christianity is a wonderful religion but it has never been tried".

Here is another paragraph: "When girls of 14 commit murder and all the crimes on the calendar, it indicates that home influence has broken down and that the system of education is a rank failure. Thousands of girls await the arrival of little babies who will never know a father's name, or have a father's."

During the South African War, the morals of the Empire took a slump. During the last war, the slump was greater, and there is every evidence that in this conflict the slump will be the worst of all."

The writer of this denunciatory letter must be looking through very dirty glasses to so classify our young people. Granted that in all too many homes parental influence may be lacking, this gentleman's views, conjured up in his eerie aloneness at the Arrow Lakes, must have been downward towards the bottomless pit instead of looking upward to the stars. It seems that most old people take the view that the rising generation is on the road to hell. It were so, this old world would have been hell long before this.

Waste—and More of It!

Judging from the mass of government bulletins, requests for free publicity, and a raft of other stuff that arrives in the week-end mail it would appear that the offices whence this emanates must spend the first two or three days of the week thinking up stuff with which to clutter the mails, then get a spurt on and hustle it out before Saturday arrives. There would be an enormous saving in energy, paper, cost of mailing and the time spent in newspaper office glancing over it and picking out the wheat from the chaff if much of it was eliminated, for fully 90 per cent of it is wasted. When the need for efficiency and wartime economy is being so constantly dinned into people's ears, it is sickening to find it has little effect in places where much could be done to set an example.

"Small Potatoes"

The British Columbian, published at New Westminster, is of the opinion that it would be hard to think of anything less essential than the operations of the marketing board. The paper cites a case in court there in which a man was accused of transporting three sacks of carrots without a permit from that body, and then wonders how many more physically fit men have nothing better to do, in the midst of a war and an alleged shortage of manpower, than go snooping about the country looking for a few sacks of spuds or carrots that may be found in trucks or passenger cars. —Cranbrook Courier.

Theatre Notes

To-night and Friday the Palace presents a double program. Adolph Menjou and Carol Landis team up in a musical comedy and have a brilliant supporting cast to make the picture "Road Show" pleasing entertainment. Tim Holt, a new western star, takes the leading role in "Dude Cowboy", an exciting western feature.

Radio's leading comedian, Bob Hope is at his best in "Nothing But the Truth". Bob really goes to town in a big way and there are laughs and wisecracks aplenty. Also on the program is another "Canada Carries On" series "Heroes of the Atlantic". It gives an insight to the great and historic work being done by Canada's sailors and ships.

At Cole's theatre this week-end is the exciting mystery film "The Maltese Falcon". It stars Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor and Peter Lorre. It is the story of the "Falcon" spreading a curse of death and destruction on those who tried to solve its secret.

Our sympathies have always been and still are with the farmer, but now when he is crying so loudly for parity he must be prepared to accept his load in the income tax payments. The figures released indicate that there has been a wholesale indifference on the part of the farmers to this form of taxation. Their accounting is not so complex that it should worry them too much. When less than nine thousand farmers in Canada pay income tax there is something rotten and it is not all in the price levels.

A STATEMENT about BUTTER

In spite of the fact that in some Canadian cities butter supplies recently have not been sufficient to meet the greatly increased demands, the situation does not constitute an emergency; nor is it as serious as some people seem to think. There are two main causes for these temporary and local shortages:

For the past year we have been consistently using 10% to 15% more butter than in normal times—with consequent disturbance to the distribution of our butter supplies.

Many people have been buying more butter than they currently need.

The limited nature of the present shortage is shown by the fact that if every home would reduce its consumption of butter by only one ounce per person per week (for the average home this means a quarter of a pound a week)—or if we reduced our national consumption to the peacetime rate—the shortage would soon disappear.

There is no Reason for Panic Buying

It is unpatriotic and unnecessary for housewives to rush out to beat their neighbours to the nearest grocery store. Butter will not be rationed to meet the present situation. Butter production is actually above normal for this time of year. The Board itself is taking special action which it is believed will speedily restore normal supplies in retail stores.

HOW TO SAVE BUTTER

AT MEAL-TIME

1. Use butter only for spreading on bread.
2. Never use butter just out of the refrigerator. Wait until it is soft enough to spread easily.
3. Add a small amount of milk when creaming butter for sandwiches.

IN COOKING

1. Do not use butter in baking and cooking, when lard, shortening or meat dripping can be used.
2. Use level measurements of butter. . . . Guesswork means waste!
3. When adding cheese to a cream or white sauce, use only half amount of butter stated in recipe.
4. Use paper wrappings from butter to grease baking dishes.
5. Do not use butter for re-warming vegetables.
6. Serve meat gravy to avoid the use of extra butter on potatoes.
7. When adding butter to vegetable dishes, add it sparingly. Do not melt it and then pour on.

These supplies will however be adequate for normal consumption, if housewives in all parts of Canada co-operate.

You can help in these ways:

Scrupulously avoid waste and extravagance. Waste is wrong at all times. In time of war it is sabotage.

Reduce present consumption of butter by at least one ounce per person per week—(for the average home this means a quarter of a pound a week.)

Do not buy more than is needed for immediate use.
